Introduction

Fraud is a persistent and evolving threat to organizations, eroding trust, damaging reputations, and causing significant financial losses. An effective anti-fraud program requires not only strong controls, but also a trained and vigilant workforce capable of identifying red flags, reporting suspicious activity, and fostering an ethical culture.

This intensive three-day course is designed to equip professionals with the tools to detect, prevent, and respond to fraud across departments and functions. Participants will explore the latest fraud trends, examine fraud schemes and case studies, and develop practical anti-fraud strategies tailored to their operational environments.

Objectives

- By the end of this course, participants will be able to:
- Identify common fraud schemes and their warning signs.
 - Implement internal controls to detect and prevent fraud.
 - Conduct fraud risk assessments and build fraud response plans.
 - Strengthen fraud reporting, whistleblower, and investigation mechanisms.
 - Align anti-fraud efforts with ethics, compliance, and corporate governance.

Why Attend

- Learn how to spot and stop fraud before it causes major damage.
- Build practical defenses that go beyond theory and policy.
- Improve audit, compliance, and operational readiness.
- Raise organizational awareness and foster a no-tolerance culture.
- Collaborate with colleagues to reduce fraud risk enterprise-wide.
