Introduction

Emotional Intelligence (EQ) is no longer a soft skill—it's a strategic leadership advantage. Research consistently shows that leaders with high EQ outperform others in managing teams, handling pressure, and driving business outcomes. In today's fast-paced and emotionally charged business environment, developing EQ is essential for effective communication, decision-making, and team engagement.

This 2-day program is designed for leaders and managers who want to elevate their leadership presence and performance by mastering self-awareness, empathy, emotional regulation, and interpersonal influence. Through self-assessments, simulations, and coaching tools, participants will gain deep insights and actionable strategies for becoming more emotionally intelligent leaders.

Objectives

By the end of this course, participants will be able to:

- Define and apply the five components of emotional intelligence in leadership
- Increase self-awareness and manage emotional triggers constructively
- Build trust, empathy, and psychological safety within teams
- Use EQ to influence, coach, and motivate others
- Apply emotional agility during conflict, change, and high-stress situations
