Introduction

Risk is an inherent part of business. ISO 31000 provides organizations with universally accepted principles and guidelines for managing risk, regardless of industry or sector. This training program delivers a comprehensive understanding of the ISO 31000:2018 standard, enabling participants to design, implement, and sustain effective risk management frameworks.

Through interactive sessions, real-world case studies, and hands-on workshops, this course equips participants with the practical tools and methodologies required to embed risk management across organizational processes and decision-making layers. It lays the foundation for aligning risk management with business objectives and driving continuous improvement.

Objectives

By the end of this course, participants will be able to:

- Understand the structure, scope, and principles of ISO 31000:2018
- Establish and integrate a risk management framework within their organization
- Apply the full risk management process from identification to monitoring
- Align risk management with corporate governance, strategy, and performance
- Communicate and consult on risk across all stakeholder levels
- Support organizational decision-making using risk-informed approaches
