Introduction

This practical training provides participants with essential knowledge to apply Work Health and Safety (WHS) requirements, policies, and procedures in the construction industry. It supports legal compliance, reduces risk exposure, and reinforces a strong safety culture at worksites. Learners will gain the ability to identify hazards, assess risks, and follow correct procedures in line with WHS legislation and site-specific safety plans.

Objectives

By the end of this course, participants will be able to:

- Understand WHS legislation and its application in construction
- Recognize common construction-related hazards and risk factors
- Apply safe work procedures and controls
- Use personal protective equipment (PPE) correctly
- Communicate safety concerns effectively and report incidents
- Follow emergency procedures and site WHS protocols

Why Attend

- Become WHS-aware and legally compliant in high-risk work environments
- Reduce on-site injuries, incidents, and liabilities
- Meet industry, employer, and regulatory safety standards

Target Audience

- Construction workers and supervisors
- Contractors and subcontractors
- Safety officers and site managers
- Engineering, maintenance, and project personnel
- Anyone new to WHS in construction

Individual Benefits

- Enhanced awareness and accountability in high-risk settings
- Practical skills in real-life safety application
- A valuable WHS credential for employment and career advancement

Organizational Benefits

- Improved compliance with local WHS legislation
- Reduced downtime and incident-related costs
- Enhanced workforce safety and productivity
- Stronger safety culture and reduced liability exposure

Instructional Methodology

- Interactive lectures with legal and site-specific examples
- Group workshops and toolbox talk simulations
- Hazard identification exercises and safety audits
- Multimedia learning (videos, case studies)
- On-site or virtual safety walk-throughs (customizable)
