Course Outline

Module 1: Fundamentals of Risk Management

This module provides a strong foundation in risk management concepts, definitions, and classifications. It covers the risk management process, key principles, and the relationship between risk, governance, and organizational objectives.

Module 2: Risk Identification and Assessment

Participants will learn how to identify different types of risks, including financial, operational, strategic, and reputational risks. The module explores both qualitative and quantitative assessment techniques and introduces various tools used to measure risk exposure.

Module 3: Risk Mitigation and Control Strategies

This module focuses on developing and implementing effective risk response plans. It discusses control mechanisms, risk transfer, avoidance, and acceptance strategies while emphasizing cost-benefit analysis in decision-making.

Module 4: Enterprise Risk Management (ERM) and Compliance

This module highlights the integration of ERM within corporate governance frameworks. Participants will explore international standards such as ISO 31000 and COSO ERM, along with compliance, regulatory, and reporting requirements.

Module 5: Emerging Risks and Global Trends

The final module examines new risk areas such as cybersecurity, environmental, geopolitical, and technological risks. It emphasizes the need for continuous monitoring, scenario planning, and adaptive risk management in a globalized world.

Certification

Upon successful completion of the course, participants will receive a Certificate of Achievement in Certified Risk Analyst (CRA), signifying their expertise in identifying, analyzing, and managing business risks in alignment with international best practices.
